

Dear Colleagues,

The IWSS has worked with Ian Harmon in WVU Libraries to develop a “Water Courses at WVU” repository. This is a living database that you can input your courses and update as needed. You can access the site via the following IWSS or WVU Libraries weblinks:

- <https://iwss.wvu.edu/programs/water-courses>
- <https://researchrepository.wvu.edu/water-courses/>

Click the <Follow> link if you’d like to stay informed as to hits and progress on the site over time. And, again, you can always update (revise, add, delete) your information (simply reach out to Ian Harmon (ian.harmon@mail.wvu.edu) with WVU libraries to request changes).

Before you begin, please be sure you have the following:

- The title of the course
- The course subject (e.g. ARE, ESWS, etc.)
- The course number (e.g. 101)
- The section number
- The modality of the course (e.g. Lab, Lecture, etc.)
- The year and term the course was taught (e.g. Fall 2018)
- The course syllabus as a Word or PDF file

To get started with a submission:

- Click <Submit Research> in the bottom left of the WVU Libraries link provided above.
- Log in with your WVU ID.
- Click the box at the bottom of the <Submission Agreement> if you agree with the stipulations therein.
- Click <Continue>.

It could take a little while for the system to pick up (and show) your course at the link above, so check back in a couple hours. Hint: Refresh your browser.

If you have questions, need repository administrative support, or wish to update your course(s) please reach out to Ian Harmon (ian.harmon@mail.wvu.edu) with WVU libraries.
